Enterprise Facility Integration - Development Matrix

PMC's phased approach shepherds property owners and managers through the transition of digitizing, contextualizing, and maintaining their real estate assets via 3D Digital Twins.

Our front-loaded value stream considers PEOPLE, PROCESS, AND DATA through the lifecycle building operations by overcoming barriers between functional groups within an enterprise and its supply chain.

Enterprise Facility Integration includes foundational services and consulting that work to address:

- Knowledge gaps that prevent support staff from using information in a meaningful way
- Siloed business groups that have difficulty finding ways to collaborate
- Voluminous data over many years and formats
- Hardware and software limitations

In a world of mixed priorities, working with businesses you trust is important. Because PMC doesn't author design data or have stakes in the construction process, we can truly focus on helping property owners and managers become powerful informed advocates for their interests through the entire property life cycle.
